NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

GETS POSITION IN RECORD TIME.

ADMITTED TO BAR AND GIVEN APPOINTMENT AT ONCE.

Former Senator of Wisconsin Obtains Permission to Practice Law and Following Morning Gets Job as Assistant City Attorney of Pasadena at Full Salary.

(Office of The Times, 26 S. Raymond avenue.)

PASADENA, Dec. 7.—Admitted to practice law in California one afternoon and then next morning appointed to the dignified position of Assistant City Attorney of Pasadena, Edward E. Burns formerly a State Senator of Wisconsin has made a record for himself never before recorded in Southern California.

Burns is an old time chum of City Attorney Carr. Two weeks ago J. Perry Wood resigned as City Attorney and Carr, who had been his assistant for several months was promoted to Wood's position. Then Carr drew up an ordinance specifying that he himself should have an assistant and that he himself should be permitted to have the exclusive pleasure of naming some one who would be of his own kind and friendly agreeable. He had his friends in mind at the time and drew up the ordinance to fit the case. Then he appointed Burns and the Mayor and Council agreed that Carr had done the proper thing.

However, there is great disappointment among the legal fraternity of the Pasadena because the job of Assistant City Attorney is one of the "real soft spots" and pays $150 per month.

Burns served eight years as a member of the Senate of Wisconsin and came to Pasadena a short time ago to make his home. He is said to have been a good lawyer in his home State and his friends here will be glad to see him in California when he has mastered the peculiarities of the California laws. His new position will give him a chance to "study up" because there are several old "chronic cases" now pending in the courts that were started by J. Perry Wood, which will require much ingenuity to unravel.

JAPANESE VISITORS. Yesterday was Pasadena Day for the officers and midshipmen of the Japanese Training Squadron which is now anchored in San Pedro Harbor. Yesterday morning some 200 of the young midshipmen of the Asanami, the Kasagi arrived in the city on a special train over the Pacific Electric Company. They were brought over via the Oak Knoll line, unloaded on Colorado street and spent fifteen minutes eating Japanese luncheon at Fair Oaks avenue. They left the city via the Short Line for Los Angeles.

In the afternoon the Reception Committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce brought Rear Admiral R. Yoshino and the officers of his staff to Pasadena in automobiles. They first visited the Hotel Raymond and then looking over that big hotel took a general view of the surrounding valley from the hill. They next went to Busch's Sunken Gardens where they were driven through the famous beauty spot. Their next stop was at the Hotel Maryland where light refreshments were served and the visitors were met by Mayor Early and the directors of the Board of Trade. Boarding their automobiles the party drove through the grounds of Henry E. Huntington and left for Los Angeles by traveling through the Oak Knoll section. "We have heard much of your beautiful city," said Admiral Yoshino, "and indeed it is next to Paradise. Many of our people have visited your beautiful city and they have all enjoyed it very much."

COUNCIL DOINGS.

"The old tomato can which has been used since the mind of man runneth not at the drinking fountain at the corner of Colorado street and Raymond avenue must go," is the verdict passed by the City Council yesterday morning. The matter came up on a petition signed by a committee of physicians who stated that the old tomato can which has cut the mouths of hundreds of women and children is unsanitary and carried millions of germs all the time. In its stead there will be built one of the modern automatic drinking fountains which is worked with a little wheel so that when the thirsty want a drink all they have to do is to turn the wheel and the clear, pure spring water squirrels into their mouths. The new fountains are declared to be absolutely sanitary by the physicians.

For many years there have been two of these fountains in Pasadena. One is at the City Hall. In addition the tomato cans which have been hung on the iron fountain for the use of humanity there has also been a small trough for horses. The new fountain will cut out the horses and they will have to go to Central Park when they want a drink.

"This is a prohibition town and the people should have all the water they want and have it sanitary," said Councilman Hotelling. "There is a great bowl going up that we are short of water. That is all wrong. We have plenty of water but the trouble is we don't have any way for the people to get to it."

Councilman Meserveau was appointed a committee of one to arrange for a suitable float for the parade on Tournament Day to be used by the Mayor and Council. He was authorized to expend at least $100 in decorations. Meserveau stated that he will have the best float in the parade unless something unforeseen occurs.

"THE TIMES" SPECIAL HOLIDAY BOOK SECTION.

NEXT Sunday The Times will print a special Holiday Book Section, devoted exclusively to the books and book news of the fall of 1910.

It will give reviews of all the important books published this autumn, including works of fiction, religion, poetry, drama, science, travel, biography, belles-lettres, etc.

There will be an abundance of news of the writer folk, their lives, methods of work, homes, habits and plans for the future.

The reviews will be departmentized and arranged in order of their importance, the object being to facilitate the purchase of holiday books for the reader or gift-giver who has not time for personal investigation. A warning will be sounded against the poor and worthless books.

There will be an important list of the best juvenile books for children of all ages.

No one should attempt to do his holiday shopping without this book section. It is arranged to facilitate the selection and the purchase of holiday books of every description.

BURGLAR TOOLS UNCOVERED.

WORKMEN LAY BARE THE IMPLEMENTS USED BY BOY.

Funeral of W. W. Lowe, the Dead Pioneer, was a Magnificent Tribute to the Splendid Qualities Which Popularized Him—Former Police Official Trust Officer.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 6.—While workmen were engaged at the old buckle factory on Alamitos avenue, remodeling the structure for another enterprise, H. A. Knowles tore away some plating near the foundation on the east side and uncovered seven twist drills, a monkey wrench and a small powder, but all gave evidence of having long occupied the hiding place. The police were notified and took possession of the stuff. A little investigation satisfied them that the tools and powder were part of the outfit used by a young fellow named Frank Moore, who two years ago made an unsuccessful attempt to shoot his way out of the Long Beach Milling Company at the corner of Appleton and Cortez avenues. He drilled several holes in the safe, filled them with powder and kerosene soaked rags and applied a fuse, but the explosion was a failure. He was arrested, but the attempt was traced to him and he was committed to the Juvenile Court. His tools were never found and he refused to commit himself regarding them.

HONOR DEAD. Funeral services of the late W. W. Lowe, pioneer resident and merchant, were held today at the Congregational Church and were attended by all who could get into the church. The casket was buried beneath bowers of flowers. Services were conducted by Revs. Booth and Webster. The remains were taken to Los Angeles for burial. At a called meeting of the Chautauqua Association this morning memorial resolutions were passed, session at Thrupp Institute last week. George Bush, superintendent of the South Pasadena schools was elected secretary and treasurer for the ensuing year.

NEWS BRIEFS. Ex-Chief of Police Williams was today appointed trustee officer of the Long Beach schools and will accept as he has a decided inclination to look after wayward boys and girls.

The annual meeting of the First Baptist Church of Long Beach was held yesterday afternoon by a rousing silver of steel. At a meeting last night of Signal Hill property owners a proposed tracks trolley system up the hill was discussed and met with approval. It was called for next week to complete an organization. The proposed system will be about a mile long and will cost between $500 and $10,000. Silver Bay Camp, Modern Woodmen, last night elected as officers, M. F. Brooks, counsel; S. C. Martin, adviser; G. G. Charlton, banker; W. D. Cason, clerk; Richard L. Jones, M. C. Cate, A. A. Caldwell, J. P. Heartwell, E. H. Callahan, C. F. Yeomans, E. H. Jackson and J. F. Clewett.

When a crowd of some 100 men gathered at the holiday something went wrong with the steering gear of E. C. Valentine's auto, and after running in a circle several times the machine overturned, the driver being ejected and was badly wounded. Mr. Valentine was alone in the car and escaped injury.

The Ohio Society is to reorganize and a meeting of all former residents of the State will be held Saturday evening at the City Hall.

Eighteen Y. M. C. A. boys have made plans for a novel method of spending the holiday week before Christmas. They expect to make a 400-mile trip on their bicycles, visiting Orange, Anaheim, Santa Ana, Redlands, Riverside, San Bernardino, Colton, and returning by way of Fontana, Pasadena, and Los Angeles. They will spend several hours in each town, the guests of the local association. They will take a walk up Mt. Wilson and Mt. Wilson.

Wm. Claer died this morning at his home on Railroad avenue, after a long illness. He was 70 years of age. From Porterville several months ago he came to Pasadena and resided here.

The Brotherhood of American Youth have elected as officers, W. O. Fleming, foreman; New Probst, M. C.; J. L. Probst, correspondent; R. N. Beacham, M. A.; Jennie Steel, chaplain.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Dec. 6.—No little commotion among officers and clerks, and much merriment and merriment, will be the portion of that busy force in order to meet a hurried order to re-organize the force of amounts of the Home's needs for the next fiscal year, and to rush the work in force for action by Congress in the present session.

The estimates for the year had already been completed and forwarded for approval of the board of directors several weeks ago, and notice of their approval returned here. Officers and clerks here then, in the meantime, were expected of their approval and adoption by Congress, when suddenly a little pamphlet originating at the Soldiers' Home, and which was announced that each of the thousand and one carefully-arranged and classified items would require reclassification under newly-prescribed nomenclature. It was a new departure resulting from the new inquiry in re Economy and Efficiency.

The pamphlet is entitled, "Outline for Approval of Estimates of the Government Expenditures on a New Basis," and applies to every department of the Government. Under the former system, estimates under the former chief heads would contain repetitions of articles identified with those required under another head. To simplify this by process of reorganization the object

PICKPOCKET IS KING IN CLASS.

PICKED UP HERE ON SUSPICION, PROVES A FINE.

Has a Prison Record and Backed by Plenty of Cash When in Trouble—St. Louis Officers Want Him and Requisition Governor For His Return.

Detective E. H. Miller, of St. Louis, will arrive in Los Angeles today to take back John Collins, alias John E. Lewis, arrested here November 23, on suspicion of being a pickpocket. Collins, who is said by the police to be one of the most dangerous pickpockets in the country, is wanted in St. Louis on a charge of larceny in the night time, a felony in that State.

The prisoner was arrested in St. Louis May 2, 1909, for stealing $19 from a man. He was convicted and sentenced to two years in Jefferson City Penitentiary, but, through some influence he brought to bear, he was released on parole. He had not been out very long before the parole was revoked.

Collins fought the revocation of the parole in the courts with much bitterness and with an astonishing supply of capital. The matter was finally taken into the Supreme Court of the State of Missouri, which upheld the revocation. Collins went to look for Collins, but he was gone.

On the evening of November 23, Detectives Boyd and McNamara, of the Los Angeles police force, were walking on South Main street when they were attracted by four men who seemed suspicious to them. The quartet separated in pairs and the detectives followed suit by severing partnership for the time being. Between Sixth and Seventh streets Boyd arrested two of the men who at the police station gave the names of John E. Lewis and George Burke, the latter being identified later as "Buck Tooth." Further down the street McNamara arrested the other two. They gave the names of George Naysand and E. Miller.

In the Police Court the next morning "Buck Tooth," Naysand and Miller were given their liberty, but the latter left the city at once, the alternative being a sentence of 180 days on the chain gang.

In the case of Collins, alias Lewis, however, the detectives found that he was wanted in St. Louis, and he was locked up.

Capt. Flamm was advised yesterday that Gov. Hadley of Missouri had issued requisition papers on Gov. Gillett for the return of Collins, and the St. Louis officers to get Collins into their hands.

ACCUSES SISTER OF FRAUD. SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Dec. 6.—James J. Murphy of Santa Maria, Cal., filed suit today in the Sangamon Circuit Court against a number of relatives and the administration of the estate of his mother, charging that his sister, Mrs. Mary Peters, who is dead, and her husband, Martin V. Peters, took a part of the estate by fraud. Murphy alleged that his sister during her life, secured the estate by fraud and was financially ruined by her mother and forgoing the mother's name to notes and mortgages.

OCEAN PARK, Dec. 6.—John G. French, who died at Casa Verdugo yesterday, was for a number of years a resident of this beach, having removed to Los Angeles a few years ago. He was manager of the Kinney Company during the building of Venice and later of the local service and Ed Graham, board of managers.

The Long Beach Hospital Association this morning elected as directors C. H. Stuart, E. Townsend, L. B. Paul, with a large membership of progressive, insurgents, Republicans and Democrats. One of the principal tenets of the platform is that section which declares for public ownership of the utilities. The income and inheritance tax features are embodied in the document and equal suffrage is espoused, with final decision on this question to be made by state referendum. The recall, referendum and initiative have place in the platform, and direct election of United States Senators is favored. The new party expects to draw largely to its ranks those liberal Socialists who entertain no hope of the success of the present party.

VENICE, Dec. 6.—On the last evening of the present month a meeting will be held here for the purpose of effecting a local organization of the new national political party, known as the Liberal party. D. C. Butler has been elected by the National Committee his appointment as State secretary for California, and the call for the initial meeting is now in process of issuance.

The Liberal party was born in October two years ago, at Chattanooga, Tenn. It seeks to weld into a harmonious whole the radical elements of the two old line parties, and with the assistance of the conservative element of the socialist party to state the case for the new party.

STOP Women and Cousins.

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham finding your private ills to a woman—a woman experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years of the best medical knowledge.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along to worse, knowing well that they ought to have assistance, but a natural modesty causes them from exposing themselves to the questions and examinations of even their family physician.

Intense Suffering. From Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble. Instantly Relieved and Permanently Cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A New Discovery, But Not a Patent Medicine. Dr. Redwell relates an interesting account of what he considers a remarkable case of acute stomach trouble and chronic dyspepsia by the use of the new discovery, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

He says: "The patient was a man who had suffered, to my knowledge, for years with dyspepsia. Everything he ate seemed to sour and create gases in the stomach. He had pains like rheumatism in the back, shoulder blades and limbs, fullness and distress after eating, poor appetite and loss of flesh; the heart became affected, causing palpitation and sleeplessness at night."

"I gave him powerful nerve tonics and blood remedies, but to no purpose. As an experiment, I finally bought a 50-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a drug store and gave them to him. Almost immediate relief was given, and after he had used four boxes he was to all appearances fully cured."

"There was no more acidity or sour, watery risings, no bloating after meals, the appetite was vigorous, and he has gained between 10 and 12 pounds in weight of solid, healthy flesh."

"Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are advertised and sold in drug stores, yet I consider them a most valuable addition to any physician's line of remedies, as they are perfectly harmless and can be given to children or invalids in any condition of the stomach with perfect safety, being harmless and containing nothing but fruit and vegetable essences, pure pepsin and Golden Seal."

"Without any question they are the safest, most effective cure for indigestion, biliousness, constipation and all derangements of the stomach, however slight or severe."

Men and Maids Swathed in Butcher Aprons and Market Caps as They Sit on Wooden Boxes Before Pumps Where Knives and Forks Are Absolutely Prohibited.

Completely covered with long butcher aprons and with butchers' caps upon their heads, thirty Los Angeles society folk last night sat down to a quaint and queer dinner as has been vouchsafed to local seekers after novelty in many a day.

The place was the new beefsteak room in the basement of Al Levy's cafe; Levy was the host, and the function was a beefsteak supper.

There were no tables; there were no covers in the proper sense of the term—the diners were even deprived of knives and forks!

Each guest sat down upon a wooden box, and in front of him—or her—was another wooden box, bearing a wooden plate and a little wooden butter dish of the corner-grocery sort, containing salt.

This little series of primitive pedestals, looking for all the world like the paraphernalia of a children's party in playhouse, was arranged in rectangular fashion about the center of the room.

In an adjoining apartment maids and valets equipped the guests with their toilet articles, and the diners, none were allowed to appear. The waiters wore the long white coats of master-butlers.

The invitations and accompanying guest-lists were printed on "meat paper," of the same description as that which you when you buy a chop or a steak.

Knives and forks were plainly under the ban; spoon, too. This was in the primitive sense, and the host and the diners were even deprived of knives and forks!

RIGHT FOR SIX INCHES.

It's Water, Which Is Why the Baldwin Estate and City of Sierra Madre Both Want It.

Six inches of pure mountain water, steadily running over the stones through little canyon jutting out of the little Santa Anita, are the bone of contention (if water can be called a bone) between the Baldwin estate and the city of Sierra Madre.

This water, along with more of the supply which gurgles down the sides of the mother mountains, has been a source of litigation for some years. The people of Sierra Madre are getting ready to deal with the subject, as they profess to see the end in sight of the articular lawsuit dealing with this six inches. They are discussing a bond section, which will enable them to be one up on the Baldwin estate for the small canyon through which the stream flows, which is on the estate of the late turfman, and also to lay pipes to tap the supply.

The figure mentioned for the bonds is $48,000 and a meeting has been called for tomorrow night to discuss the subject. Leslie H. Hewitt, Los Angeles City Attorney, has been retained by the city of Sierra Madre to look after its interests as he has expert knowledge concerning water rights and the legal cases bearing thereon. He will address the electors at tomorrow night's gathering.

It is hoped by some of the electors of the foothill city that by acquiring this water right Sierra Madre will make its first step in the direction of municipal ownership of water. The company which now owns the system has offered to sell out for $98,000.

TIGHTS SCORDED BY MODEST WIFE.

HUSBAND SAYS HE NEEDS 'EM IN HIS BUSINESS.

In Divorce Case, Indignant Plaintiff Asserts She was Compelled to Don Floeshings in Bicycle Act. When She Revolted it is Alleged He Got Another Woman.

Mrs. Genie Edwards instanced a novel reason for the alleged desertion of her husband, in a divorce case heard before Superior Judge Conroy, yesterday. She declared that her husband, C. P. Edwards, a trick bicycle rider, made her put on brilliant pink tights in order to add "oilet" to the turn.

When her outraged modesty finally overcame her wifely sense of obedience, she alleges that he got another woman who was not so punctilious and left her forever.

"Your Honor," said the plaintiff, "when I married Edwards I told him I was willing to help him in his work on the vaudeville circuit. But I never expected he would ask me to appear in—in tights. They made me feel very uncomfortable and many a good cry I had over it."

"At last, I found it was impossible for me to take my part in the act; if required to wear no scant attire. I told my husband that it was not proper for a respectable married woman to wear the things. He secured a woman who had no objections to the costume and finally left me."

The court and spectators appeared much impressed by the pretty little woman's plea. The case was, however, postponed for a week in order to secure denotations from Eureka, where the couple formerly resided.

GRAND JURY INDICTMENTS.

Two "Mining Brokers" Arrested for Sending Obscene Letters Through the Mails—Collection Agent Taken.

The United States grand jury got busy late yesterday afternoon and returned several indictments, which led to immediate arrests. Deputy Marshal White of the United States Marshal's office, arrested J. E. Schweng and W. E. Winne, two "mining brokers" with offices in the Union Trust Building, on a search-warrant issued from the marshal's office, charging them with sending obscene letters through the mails. The details of the charges against them are not known further than that it is alleged the letters advertised a remedy to be used for an unsanitary purpose.

A third arrest was that of E. T. Morphy, proprietor of a collection agency, charged with violation of the postal laws, in placing the words, "collector of delinquent bills," on the outside of his envelopes.

Hitted by Dog.

Albert Jones, three years old, was bitten by a dog while walking in Cengage street yesterday morning. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment and then to his home, No. 742 West Seventh street. His injury is not believed to be serious.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Council called down "Uncle Jerry" for an address upon the Boyle Heights brickyard regulation demand and sent it back with instructions to grant a hearing.

An aged newspaper vendor who annoyed women by making fun of their skirts was severely lectured by Police Judge Rose, yesterday.

A chicken thief escaped trial on a burglary charge in Police Court yesterday, because he secured the chickens from the roof of the building and did not enter it.

Judge Rives decided, yesterday, that the request of the attorneys representing Beatrice Anita Turnbull Baldwin, for a jury in the trial of the case involving the right of the girl to inherit a portion of the "Lucky" Baldwin estate, be allowed.

The interesting question of the rights of a common law wife under the laws of California, was before Judge Hervey, yesterday, in the action for maintenance brought by Carrie against J. C. Smith.

Jessica Post secured a decree of divorce in Judge Hervey's court, yesterday, from Julius S. Post, son of Charles N. Post, vice-president of the Pasadena National Bank.

At the City Hall.

CALL-DOWN FOR "UNCLE JERRY."

HIS COMMITTEE ORDERED TO HEAR BRICKYARD KICKS.

Victoria Park Champion Answers in a Long Speech but Council is Obdurate in Its Directions—Contract Awarded For the New City Hall Annex.

"Uncle Jerry" Andrews' Legislation Committee report denying Boyle Heights citizens' demand for the regulation of brickyards, on the same basis that "Uncle Jerry" regulated them for his Victoria Park interests, was kicked back to the committee yesterday with instructions to first hear the protesters before denying their request.

President Lusk who lives in Boyle Heights, was indignant that the committee had determined the question without inviting the signers of the protests to a hearing and he demanded that he be accorded that civility at least.

He said the committee had acted without notice to the citizens to begin with. "Uncle Jerry" used the occasion as one to re-preach his famous doctrine on human rights. His tones resounded through the hall and at times shook the timbers. All because he was explaining, in a most apologetic way, his belief that the Boyle Heights brickyard don't disturb anything but jack rabbits and bats (not brickbats) and that, anyway he is for what the people want everywhere all the time, especially in Victoria Park, in which, of course he happened once to have had some interest.

Accordingly the Legislation Committee received its spanking with decorum and eloquence and Boyle Heights people will be tolerated at the meeting of the committee next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. It is possible they will have something to say to "Uncle Jerry" about the attempt to dispose of their protests as mere bluster and without the zeal he showed for Victoria Park region.

ANNEX MONEY.

COUNCIL VOTES IT.

Los Angeles, with two City Hall sites on its hands and an income of over $1,000,000 a year, is to have a "City Hall annex" two stories high which is to cost $100,000. This was decided yesterday when the Council, defying its own and every other parliamentary rule, adopted a minority report of the Building Committee without receiving a majority report, and appropriated $6000 to supply a deficiency in the city fund.

Councilman Whiffen could not induce Gregory and Washburn to sign the report as they believed the city ought not to spend more than $10,000 on the annex. They are members of the Building Committee of which Whiffen is chairman. So Whiffen presented a minority report and got six votes for it.

The Board of Public Works was instructed to award the contract at a price of $117,175, and to begin at once. It will take about ninety days to complete it. By that time the charter is expected to be amended that the Council will be able to sell the City Hall site with its annex and build on the Temple Block site.

AQUEDUCT BALANCE.

THE COUNCIL WANTS IT.

The "manifesto" of Auditor Myers on aqueduct finances was read to the Council yesterday and resulted in Councilman Washburn moving that the auditor and the Board of Public Works be directed to make a report on the available cash balance of November 23. A difference of $45,000 was found by Washburn, who intimated that the auditor had misled the Council with a balance that much in excess of the real one.

On motion of Councilman Belkouski a resolution was adopted giving the New York bond syndicate forty days notice that the city will expect it to exercise its option February 1, on $8,586,000 of aqueduct bonds. The notice is in compliance with the contract.

FLYLESS TOWN.

BAROMAN HAS A PLAN.

Los Angeles may be a flyless town if Henry Baroman's trap system for large cities proves the success he predicts.

He asked the Council yesterday for permission to try it in the business districts and promises to extend it to residential portions. It is a trap placed on the curbing of sidewalks and Baroman says it will work. After the flies are trapped he has at his disposal the incinerator. It will not be long he declares, until flies will be eliminated and the general health made safer.

He did not go into details but asked the reference of his request to a committee. The Council sent it to the Board of Health for investigation.

A flyless town and a fly-speckless town may interest the Board, the Council thinks.

Pave San Pedro Street.

The ordinance for the paving of San Pedro street, between Fifth and Aliso streets was passed by the Council yesterday. It provides for the omission of a strip twenty-one feet wide in the middle for street railway tracks as an application of the Pacific Electric Company pending before the Board of Public Utilities.

Unredeemed Pledges.

Wilmington's hot demand that the Council keep the pre-consolidation pledges made a year and a half ago was read to that body yesterday afternoon, particularly the pledges as to the harbor improvements. It was referred to the Harbor Committee.

Hardly had the echoes of Wilmington's plaint been silenced until another from Gardena, forwarded by G. L. Seles, reminded the Council that it was the original victim of consolidation pledges in 1907 and it that has been waiting ever since for their redemption. Seles said lights are wanted, 25 in all, but the community could worry along with ten. "The town is lighted at night by only a sky and somewhat absent moon," he ended. This was referred to the Light Committee.

Industrial District.

A hearing by the Council Public Welfare Committee on the creation of a new system of industrial districts will be held this afternoon in the Council chamber, and Chairman Stewart yesterday asked that all interested appear and disclose their wants. The whole afternoon will be given to the hearing.

Council Will Attend.

The Council has been asked to participate in the corner-stone laying at Agricultural Park, December 17, and will attend. W. M. Bowen, one of the park directors, extended the invitation yesterday and said the name of the park will be changed whenever a fitting name is found.

New Sidewalk Law.

Senator-elect Hewitt has been asked by the Council to draft a bill for presentation to the Legislature combining sidewalk improvements with general street work and to repeal the Grove Johnson law.

City Hall Briefs.

The Council has allowed the Board of Public Works to appoint two sidewalk inspectors at a salary of $10 each per month.

All proceedings for the acquisition of land at Piedmont street and Pasadena avenue for park purposes were abandoned formally by the Council yesterday.

Councilman Williams, at the request of the Pioneer Society procured the passage of a resolution by the Council yesterday requiring the Board of Public Works to clean the old city cemetery, in the rear of the high school, and remove the weeds and put a caretaker in charge of it until an ordinance can be prepared and made effective for its preservation.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

YOUNG GIRL OUT FOR SHARE.

ALLEGED DAUGHTER OF "LUCKY" BALDWIN IS HERE.

Trial Begins Before Judge Rives and Jury in Superior Court, Monday next, to Determine Whether Claimant is Entitled to Share of the Estate.

First blood was drawn in Judge Rives' court yesterday by the attorneys representing Beatrice Anita Turnbull Baldwin, in her contest for her share of the $1,000,000 estate of "Lucky" Baldwin. The court granted the petition of the petitioner for a jury in the trial of the case to determine her right to an interest in the property, beginning in Judge Rives' department next Monday afternoon.

The decision of the court is likely to extend the time to be occupied by the hearing, for some days will probably be taken in securing a jury. There has been much uncertainty in regard to Baldwin and his various heirs, that many people in Los Angeles city and county have their ideas about the matter.

The granting of a jury was opposed by H. A. Unruh, administrator of the Baldwin estate, and the other heirs to the Baldwin millions. It is generally understood that a jury will be more favorable to the contention of a woman than that of the court. The likelihood of a disagreement also enters into the equation, that argues that the decision of Judge Rives is a partial victory at least for the fair petitioner. Miss Turnbull's attorneys contended for the jury, while the other side as valiantly opposed it.

On account of the large interests at stake, the case will attract national attention, and it is understood that at least forty witnesses have been summoned to appear and testify. At least six weeks will be consumed in the hearing, as it cannot be continuous on account of the regular probate calendar that must be disposed of by the court.

WANTS THE MONEY.

A MISTAKE IN BANKING.

An action was filed in the Superior Court, yesterday, by John Henderson, a mining man engaged in business in Mexico, against Mary S. Henderson, executrix of the estate of Elizabeth B. Henderson, involving the ownership and disposition of $5000 on deposit in the Union Savings Bank of Pasadena. It is alleged in the complaint that Elizabeth B. Henderson, wife of the plaintiff, died August 20, 1910, and that for some years the husband had maintained the family consisting of his wife and children in that city, where the latter could take advantage of excellent school privileges. During their residence there, Henderson avers that he sent his family money for their support and that they wanted for nothing. The last draft for $5000 he alleges was deposited by mistake in the bank in the name of Elizabeth B. Henderson, where it has since remained.

Plaintiff asks that the court find that the money in the community property of the plaintiff, and that the administratrix to ordered to pay it over to him.

LEAVES HER CHILD.

CUSTODY AWARDED FATHER.

Judge Bordwell, yesterday, ordered Bernice ("Bibi") Mabry restored to the custody of her father, a fireman in the employ of the Santa Fe Railway. It seemed from the testimony that the mother placed the child in the care of a local orphan asylum, that refused to give it up on the demand of the father. Mabry's mother, of Redlands, testified that the wife had left her son and their child on three occasions before she also decided that as a result of the alleged misdoings of the wife, her son had on one occasion threatened to kill his wife and then himself. This was after he had seen his wife in company with another man, she testified. Mabry is now supposed to be in Riverside county, according to the information given.

CASE NOT OVER.

The argument in the Thomas B. Tomb $30,000 note proposition was not concluded yesterday, as was expected, and the matter went over until next Monday afternoon, when the case will be resumed.

BE RESUMED NEXT WEEK.

The argument in the Thomas B. Tomb $30,000 note proposition was not concluded yesterday, as was expected, and the matter went over until next Monday afternoon, when the case will be resumed.

DAMAGE ACTION.

A suit was entered in the Superior Court by W. T. Warden against H. Sarrasin, for $15,000 damages, on account of injuries received by the plaintiff by being run down by an auto owned and operated by the defendant. On May 24, last, as Warden was alighting from a car at Main and Twenty-seventh street, he was struck by the machine and injured, through the negligence of the defendant, he alleges.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

FASHION CRITIC GIVEN LECTURE.

JUST ESCAPES IMPOSITION OF LONG SENTENCE.

Amos Women on Street by Showing Cartoons of Hobbies and Telling Them to see How They Look—He Thought to be Mentally Unbalanced.

G. W. Ridgway, an aged newspaper vendor who for years has stationed himself at Second and Main streets, was given a suspended sentence of sixty days by Police Judge Rose yesterday. He was charged with disturbing the peace.

But for the fact that Ridgway is old and the police suspect his mind is slightly affected, he would probably be serving time, but Police Judge Rose let him off with a lecture.

Of late Ridgway has not paid much attention to his business. His customers take their papers and leave the money on the sidewalk. The police say he has annoyed pedestrians by confronting them with cartoons in the paper and telling them: "This is your picture."

When the bobbie skirt came into vogue Ridgway was elated, the police say, and few women passed him without being shown a cartoon of a girl in a bobbie skirt. When not occupied in showing women the error of their ways in wearing tight skirts, it is declared he pursued the comic supplement, and thereafter applied the names of the characters to pedestrians. He rarely forgot a face and kept persons frequenting the thoroughfares well-informed on their daily appearances in print.

When Ridgway was first arrested he was taken to the Receiving Hospital, the comic supplement, and thereafter the patrolman had made any very big mistake in sentencing "moocher" to insanity might prove as effective as one in police court.

BACK FOR MORE.

"OLIVER" GETS SIX MONTHS.

Oliver Twist returned to Police Court yesterday morning. He first appeared October last, on a charge of vagrancy. He told the usual story, "I've been working on the aqueduct." On his promise to go back and work he was released. Yesterday he was found wandering along Main street and was arrested again.

Police Judge Chambers made good his promise to go back and work to 180 days in jail on their second appearance and Oliver was taken to the East Side Jail.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

HE FACES BIGAMY CHARGE.

Philip Gendel, charged with bigamy, was held for trial in the Superior Court yesterday morning by Police Judge Frederickson. Bail was set at $1500. Gendel was also charged with failure to provide, but it was dropped when the bigamy accusation was made. He was arrested about two weeks ago.

GET TREATMENT.

SIX BEGGARS GO TO JAIL.

Six beggars appeared before Police Judge Rose, yesterday morning, which fact led the court to declare that his threat of ten days for the first offense and six months for the second was getting results.

The beggars immediately pleaded guilty and were given the "first treatment" of six days in the Eastside Jail. They said they were recent arrivals in the city and the court suggested that when their sentences elapse they visit some other place.

NOT ALWAYS "WEAPON."

DEPENDS UPON THE MAN.

"A knife in the hands of a man who is too crippled to use it is not a 'weapon,'" ruled Police Judge Rose, yesterday morning, when he released W. Fullman on a suspended sentence. Fullman was charged with carrying concealed weapons. A long knife was found in his pocket and introduced as evidence.

"I am guilty of having the knife in my pocket, but I was on my way to a pawn shop to get some money on it," Fullman said. He then removed his coat and proved that he could not have used the knife had he wished.

Fullman said several years ago he was injured in a street car accident. He showed his right arm badly crippled and without the power to move more than a few inches. His left arm, he said, had received a heavy charge from a shot gun and as a result it was without bone for several inches near the shoulder.

ISN'T A "BURGLAR."

ONLY CLIMBS ON ROOF.

Because to constitute burglary, it is necessary for the offender to be inside the building, Eugene Franklin was released yesterday afternoon by Police Judge Chambers. Franklin was on the roof of the building in question. He admits he was after chickens, but fortunately for him he did not go inside, but reached through a window.

Franklin was arrested by a special officer who saw him prowling about in the vicinity of Seventh and Los Angeles streets. He had some chickens in his hand and when commanded by the officer to throw up his hands he was too slow and received a bullet through his hand.

The technically, however, will avail Franklin little, for the deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case declared a new complaint charging petty larceny will be issued immediately.

DIVORCED FROM BANKERS' SON.

WOMAN DECLARES HUSBAND VIOLATED THE HOME.

Brings Women to the House Against Her Fearful Plea and is Forced to Apologize to One of the Creatures, she Alleges—Father Puts in Plea for Son.

Judge Hervey yesterday granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Jessica L. Post, from Julius S. Post, on the charge of extreme cruelty. The case was uncontested. It is understood that a settlement was made upon the wife pending the trial, which was accepted in lieu of an allowance of $100 a month prayed for in the petition. The wife also secured the custody of their child, Janice L. Post, aged 7 years.

Julius S. Post is a son of Charles N. Post, vice-president of the Pasadena National Bank, and for years has been the head of the Post Publishing Company, one of the big music concerns of Chicago. The couple were married in Chicago, June 12, 1902, and after the family came to California, the elder Post purchased a $25,000 ranch for the son and his wife, and gave him an allowance of $250 a month for the support of himself and family, according to allegations of the complaint.

The testimony of the wife was that her husband on April 24, last, struck her with his fist. She also declared that he was in the habit of making the home the scene of drunken orgies much to her humiliation.

On September 1, 1910, the wife said that her husband brought to the house a Miss Snyder, with whom he was locked in a room for some time, and when the wife compelled the woman to leave the place, Post made her apologize to her for the act.

On that occasion Post attempted to shoot her, firing a revolver at her, declared the witness. Afterward, Post brought another woman to the house and his conduct with her was very disreputable, it was stated.

A part of the case was an affidavit sworn by the father of the young man in which no defense was made for the boy, except to say that he was in bad health and that he had never been accustomed to work. Some excuse for his actions was argued from this premise.

Early Mail East.

Postmaster Harrison said yesterday that the outgoing mails show an increase of 25 per cent over the same time last year, indicating that people are not only shopping early, but are starting their packages East earlier. Mr. Harrison says this will greatly lighten the work of the postal employees at the close of the holiday season, and he hopes to see the good work go on.

YOUNG ROUNDER FALLS DOWN.

WARD OF PROBATION OFFICER SLIPS FROM GRACE.

After Promising More Than Once to be Good, He Wears of the Straight and Narrow Way, and is Now Inmate of County Jail.

Endeavoring to emulate the frenzied methods of E. E. Davies, the Boston "Boy Broker," J. Philip Asbury, an ostensible publisher, with offices in the Pantegre Theater building, is at present in the juvenile department of the County Jail, while Probation Officer Dodd's and several associates are investigating the reports of many alleged shady financial manipulations which he figured in.

Young Asbury has been before the juvenile court before, but owing to various causes and the scores of influential friends who rallied to his aid, he was not harshly dealt with. The charge against him on that occasion was filed by Asbury's mother.

It was alleged that he had forged her name to a check for $1500, with which he had purchased an automobile. The boy when arrested stated that he had written the check for the machine hoping that it would throw an atmosphere of prosperity about his business, and increase the number of his patrons.

At first Judge Wilbur was inclined to send the youthful financier to prison, but so many of his friends rallied to his support that he was assigned to the George Junior Republic institution. Time hung heavy on Asbury's hands there, however, for after a few weeks, he telephoned to an automobile agent in Pomona to bring a machine down to the school for demonstration purposes. He represented to the agent that he was assistant principal of the school, was wealthy, and was interested in the institution from purely humanitarian motives.

The agent drove down his car as he had agreed, and Asbury after enjoying a few hours ride told him that the car did not suit. The agent says he became suspicious and after investigating reported the young man to the juvenile court.

Asbury was taken, before Judge Wilbur but friends interceded for him. Judge Wilbur gave him a good talking to and sent him home in the custody of his mother. This several months ago, and up to the present the juvenile court officials believed that he was making a success of his life. However, Dr. C. M. Horn, with offices in the Pantegre Theater building, received a letter from Asbury stating that he was unable to pay his mother, and as a result wanted a loan of $10,000. Dr. Horn immediately granted the request, he says, but upon investigation found that Asbury had severed his connection with the firm that had borne his name. Dr. Horn then notified Captain Dodd, and the latter immediately started out on a quiet investigation. As a result he says he found that Asbury had given several checks in payment of articles and had no bank account to cover the paper. Other shady transactions were also unearthed, and Captain Dodd yesterday.

F. C. Carpe and R. A. Morrow, two produce merchants of Toronto, are guests at the Westminster.

R. E. Miller, president of the Owl Drug Company, is registered at the Van Nuys from Menlo Park.

Miss E. Duse of Empalme, Mex., is staying at the Angelus. She is here to pass the winter with friends.

J. Schaefer, operator of a number of oil rigs in the Bakerfield district, is a guest at the Hayward.

C. A. Davis is registered at the Van Nuys from San Francisco. He is manager of the E. A. Fargo Company.

G. S. Johnson of San Francisco is a guest at the Angelus. He is president of the Occidental Trust Company.

W. H. Farley, a San Francisco chemist and Robert N. Frick, an attorney of the same place, are at the Van Nuys.

George H. Emerson and George W. Lawrence are manufacturers of boxes, stock and lumber of Hoquiam, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Featherstone are guests at the Hollenbeck. Featherstone is a grain operator of Red Wing, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Roland are guests at the Lankershim. Roland is an official of the United Railways of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reinhardt of Kansas City are occupying a suite at the Lankershim. Reinhardt is in the leather business.

Pope Yeatman of Philadelphia and A. Lakeman arrived at the Alexandria yesterday from Ely, where they have mining interests.

Henry Chalfant, his wife and son are occupying a suite at the Alexandria. Chalfant is a Pittsburgh manufacturer of pipe and casting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Quinten are guests at the Westminster. Quinten is president of the Commercial National Bank of Rochester.

William E. Edwards and Miss Quenele Edwards are staying at the Hayward. They are New Yorkers interested in the manufacture of moving pictures.

Walter H. Grant of Boston arrived at the Alexandria. He is attorney for Asta Turnbull, contestant of the Baldwin will, which case will shortly be resumed in local courts.

W. H. Stanley of Athol, Mass., a manufacturer of mechanical tools, arrived at the Hollenbeck from Mexico where he was at the time of the outbreak against Americans. Much of the rioting was exaggerated. The students and a lot of rabble did, however, start to mob the Americans. I was sent to several seats at table in the New Porter Hotel of Mexico City when the first outbreak came and stones were thrown through the windows, nearly all the American places of business. After the first struggle the police and soldiers soon had things in control.

Officer is Mending.

Motorcycle Patrolman Frank L. Coe is rapidly recovering from the injuries he received in falling from his machine in Pico street, November 19. It was reported at the California Hospital, yesterday afternoon, that he is expected to be in riding about the hospital yard in an invalid's chair.

FREAKS OF REFORM.

fact that no other profession owes such a great duty to the public to guard against the betrayal of confidences as does the legal profession. Stevens favored changes in the laws in order that the means of disbarring crooked attorneys might be more effective and urged every member of the association to wake up to his duty to see that the profession is cleansed of those who are false to their oath and to the trust of their clients.

He favored more stringent rules for admission to the bar with a view of raising both the moral and the mental status of those who have the right to practice in this state.

This latter idea was enlarged upon by Prof. Frederic C. Woodward of Stanford University. He declared that the requirement should be that no one should be permitted to take a bar examination until he had graduated from a college of law. He asserted that the idea that this would bar the "Abraham Lincoln" of the future was foolish. He declared that anyone who had the right kind of material in him would get the required education.

As a compromise between the ideal conditions and those which must necessarily prevail, he said that no one should be admitted to the bar unless he had a high school education and had spent three years in preparation for his life's work.

The Los Angeles Bar Association was the host at a banquet at Hotel Alexandria last night. The affair was arranged by T. W. Robinson and was an elaborate affair.

The convention will be completed today. The officers desire to extend an invitation to be present to all lawyers and students of law in the city. Many important topics will be discussed and the Legislature will be decided upon. Officers will be elected just before adjourning.

FORMER AGENTS COMING.

Dean of the College of Education, University of Minnesota, Will Address So. Cal. Teachers' Association.

Prof. George F. James, now dean of the College of Education in the University of Minnesota, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address before the Southern California Teachers' Association, at its convention in this city Christmas week. Dr. James is well known to the people of Los Angeles, particularly those familiar with the organization of the State Normal School, where he was for several years professor of education and director of the Training School. It was while occupying this position that he was called to the more important place in the University of Minnesota. While here he was prominent in all educational activities, and he will receive a warm greeting from his former co-workers in Southern California.

GOES STEP HIGHER.

Former Young Minneapolis Man Makes Good in the Banking Business in This City.

William Gibbs, Jr., one of the division executives and paying tellers of the First National Bank, will leave that institution on the 15th inst. to become second assistant cashier of the German American Savings Bank. Mr. Gibbs is recognized by local bankers as a thoroughly capable man in his chosen line, and he leaves the First National with the best wishes of the officers of that concern.

He came to the First National in July, 1907, from the Northwest Bank of Minneapolis, Minn., and began work as a bookkeeper. In the intervening years he has been advanced through the usual stages to his present position of responsibility. It might be mentioned in this connection that the First National Bank of this city has been the training school for many of the substantial young business men of this city.

Mr. Gibbs is about 35 years of age, is married and has two charming children.

JUNIOR CLASS IN PLAY.

Will Produce Four-Act College Farce, Written by Student and Brimful of Life and Enthusiasm.

"Three Queens and a Joker," or "The Awful Predicament of Senior Wilk," is the name of a four-act college farce with local setting, that will be presented by the Junior class at the University of Southern California this year. The class will give two productions tomorrow night and Friday night at the college chapel in the Liberal Arts building.

The play was written by Kenneth Burgess, a student in the University of Wisconsin, and is brimful of college life and enthusiasm. The characters and plot have been adjusted to give local color. Miss June Terry, one of the teachers in the U. S. C. School of Oratory, has been working hard with a cast of amateurs for a number of weeks. She has successfully coached a number of plays which have been staged at the university during the last two years, and promises the greatest hit of the college year in the present production.

The scenes in the various acts are in college, fraternity houses, and the play includes the unfortunate doings of a particular high-spirited college fellow who does not realize the responsibility in connection with the process of obtaining an education.

SPITE-FENCE WALL.

just so long as did the other, and not any longer.

FIGHT IN STREET.

The crisis came on the afternoon of June 22, last, in as lively a fight in the street as the fashionable West Seventh street section ever saw. It started over a cement plaster which had been erected to mark the line between the two properties. This was removed by Wiesendanger's workmen because, he says, it was entirely on his own property as shown by the survey.

Their respective accounts of what followed are somewhat different.

"I came home and found that the plaster had been torn out," said Howell. "I went up to Wiesendanger, who was supervising the excavation, and spoke to him about it. He told me I could go to hell. I said I would replace it for the value of it; he said I could sue and be damned. When I told him that I had paid half the cost of the plaster and would expect him to replace it he called me a damned liar. Then I hit him. I knocked him down and was punching him some more when some men pulled me off."

"I was standing beside my excavations," said Wiesendanger, "when all once I heard a terrible bellow and here came that man Howell. He was with him a big negro and the latter had a six-shooter sticking out of his belt. He cried something about the plaster and almost before I had time to answer, he struck me in the face and knocked me down. Then he kicked me in the eye and was pounding me with a certain intention of killing me, when some men stopped him. As to the use of my pocket, Howell that they should deny it."

MORE TROUBLE.

Wiesendanger denied that he had built his apartment house on the line as claimed by Howell. The front forty feet or so he brought to within nine inches of the boundary because, says Wiesendanger, of the value for future business purposes of the front part of his house. He further states that there was a verbal agreement between him and Howell that they should leave an equal space between their buildings and the line. The rear of the Golden standard was set back and, leaving only four himself Wiesendanger accuses Howell of having broken faith with him.

Financially, Wiesendanger admits that Howell's wall will work very considerable damage to him by cutting off the light, air and sunshine from the Golden standard on the east side of the Golden. The actual loss he places at about $7000 a year.

"If Howell puts up a wall without any windows, it will be done out of sheer spite and nothing else," he said yesterday. "And of course it is going to hurt business. Howell's saying that he would enter into an agreement with me as to the distance was a lie. He was only a means of finding out what my plans were. When he knew them he turned around and refused to do anything."

"I am building my apartment house there without any reference to Mr. Wiesendanger," said Howell yesterday. "He has a right to build where he pleases on his own land and so have I. I have even purposely kept four feet back from the line, although he has run his almost as close as he could possibly get it. No, there will be no windows in the wall, except perhaps a few small leaded ones on the elevator shaft. I could, of course, have built the structure on the lot next Bixel street and I may build there. In the meantime, however, the property along here is too valuable to leave unimproved."

A CHEERFUL VIEW.

"I don't think that it is going to do the Golden very much harm," said Manager C. S. Watts. "If there has to be a wall there we would rather have it a blank one than one with windows in it. As though a man must have

Narrow Escape.

A. F. Morehouse, thirty-six years old, a steel worker living at No. 1519 East Thirty-ninth street, escaped serious injury by a narrow margin yesterday afternoon while working on a building at No. 118 South Main street. A beam was being lowered in place when it suddenly turned. Morehouse was standing beneath. He jumped back quickly but his hand was caught between the swinging beam and a stationary one. It was badly cut. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital.

Needs His Support.

Hoping that she will gain some clew to the whereabouts of her husband, Mrs. Edgar Alfred Lockwood of Providence, R. I., has written to the local police. In her letter she states that he had come to California because of some trouble he had had in Providence. She said the trouble is over and that he is wanted to help support their children. Lockwood worked on the street railway in Providence and it is believed he will try to secure similar employment here. He may be going under the name of Joe Horton. His wife stated in her letter.

A lot of money or else he is a good deal of a fool to spend $70,000 just to spite another."

"Nothing to say," remarked W. C. Penner, associate architect with John C. Austin for Howell's structure. "Our business is building and not spite fences. So far as plans are concerned we could not put up a blank wall right on the line if we wanted to—I think that Wiesendanger is getting better than he has a right to expect in that Mr. Howell is staying back even four feet. Incidentally, we are going to put up an apartment house that is going to be no farther ahead of Wiesendanger's that—"

Fullerton.

FULLERTON, Dec. 5.—The trustees will take no more chances on having a school building burned down, having employed W. E. Morgan as night watchman permanently. As it is generally believed the building was burned by an enemy and as a new $20,000 polytechnic building has just been completed, the trustees will protect the property.

Mr. Shaller is building a $1000 cottage in block 42 and P. Laper is also erecting a $1000 cottage on Whitting avenue.

Prof. Plummer has commenced the erection of a residence on West Commonwealth avenue and it is believed that Emanuel Ormsby has returned from Arizona after an absence of three years.

He has been at the head of the Fraternal Brotherhood in that western district.

The charter for the new Placencia National Bank is expected in a few days. It will be capitalized at $50,000. Hon. C. C. Chapman, Wm. Crowther, A. Pierotti, A. S. Bradford and others will be stockholders. A number of new buildings are going up in and around the new townsite.

There is some talk of changing the name of the local chamber to the Fullerton-Placencia Chamber of Commerce. Glen Wright is expected here in a day or two to spend the holidays with his parents.

The first crop of tobacco at Yorba is now coming in and it is said to be the equal of any ever produced in this country.

FACTS FEATURES AND LANCIES
FOR WOMEN.
By Chic Gray

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: The beauty bath in the lungs is one of the very best means to clear the complexion and give tone to the general health. At least twenty long breaths night and morning, drawing in the fresh air through the nostrils rather than through the mouth, will quickly improve the looks of any girl or woman. Pure air deeply breathed will cleanse the lungs as does the bath cleanse the body.

"When our gushers begin to gush," said Elizabeth, "I mean to wash. I get a jolly sponge each spring and fall and burn every article of clothing that I have worn during the season and then begin all over again. I do so just to have clean clothes on my conscience—things too good to throw away or even to give away and which you feel that you must utilize."

"How extravagant and reckless," replied one of her hearers. "Why not, if you don't want the clothing yourself, give it to some who will use it?" "Because I hate to meet my old clothes on the street and in fact, am soon heartily tired of everything I own and want it destroyed."

"I, on the contrary," said another, "never like my clothes until I get well acquainted with them and I always like a gown better when it is made over."

"I have taken a dozen vows, during my life, to have but two dresses at a time, to wear them out and then make away with them; but somehow I manage to get loaded up with a lot of things each season and then there they stay, taking up room in closets or trunks."

"Why not call in the Old Clothes Man?"

"Because he offers you so little for your once best gowns that you lose your self-respect to think you are considered their best."

"If you only make quilts, as they used to, therein embodying the pieces of dresses and cloaks."

"Why, don't you know that quilting here are all the rage in some places. Instead of the mattress party that you planned for next week, make it a quilting bag or a carpet rag sewing; that will solve the problem of what to do with our ex-dresses."

For Winter Picnics.
 A gift for the man who is always prepared is at hand in the compact leather cases containing a folding fork, knife, two tiny sugar-jellies, pepper and salt, and a napkin folded in a strap upon the lid of the case. There is also a small tin of salt, a cup and the entire package would scarcely cause a "bulge" in the coat pocket.

Then there is a new style of drinking cup which "folds" and has an unexpected handle, that bobs up when wanted. This comes in a neat leather case; making a useful and tasteful gift.

A Dainty Holiday Dish.
 For a novel and dainty dish to serve with cold turkey, at an "after" meal, try a luncheon or night supper-jellied vegetables are delicious. It is made as follows: Soak one tablespoon granulated gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold water; then add one-fourth each sugar and vinegar, two tablespoons lemon juice and one teaspoon salt. Strain, cool, and when mixture begins to thicken add one cup celery washed scraped and cut in small pieces, three-fourths cup of french peas, drained and rinsed in cold water, and one and one-half cups pimientos cut in small pieces. Turn into a mould garnished with pimientos and chill thoroughly. Remove from the mould and arrange around it thin slices of the cold turkey.

For Your Furniture.
 Have you seen or used the new substitute for castors upon furniture? There are several inventions in the way of felt covered castors, but the one most generally approved and used in Los Angeles is not a castor, but an application of a new principle in use in moving furniture abroad. A lady who has tested it thoroughly writes me that it is perfectly satisfactory, no marring of floors and nothing to get out of order.

A Wrist Pin-Cushion.
 The home dressmaker should simplify her task by using the wrist pin-cushion when fitting dresses or doing any kind of work which requires the constant use of pins. A small soft cushion, fastened to the wrist by means of an elastic, precludes the search for pins.

A Picture Screen.
 For a child who is sick in bed, try the picture screen. Fold cardboard in the shape of a four-fold screen and so place it upon the bed that it will shield his eyes. Then give him a paste pot and a lot of pictures cut from magazines and allow him to paste the pictures upon the folds of the screen. Two purposes are thus served; the child is amused and his eyes are screened from the too glaring light.

Fashion Remarks.
 The great medallion or plaque upon the back of the opera wrap to emphasize the high waist line is seen upon the most elaborate of these garments. Street skirts and day dresses are still worn several inches from the ground.

If you have narrow bands of fur, why not edge the lace bow for your evening hat?

Blue is tremendously popular in all its shades, but the smartest is the vivid caudal blue.

A butterfly form of satin, or velvet, or of both, is placed on many velvet turbans.

For a white gown comes the cerise satin girdle, with its cut and shaped flower rosette.

The most striking feature of the present styles is the vogue for vivid, vigorous colors.

Many black velvet cloche-shaped hats have facings of white satin and bands of ermine.

Paris is quite enthusiastic over the velvet bags, and America promises to take up the fashion.

Afternoon gowns are neither long nor short, and they are an even length all the way around.

Persian effects have made their appearance in the form of colorful chenille dots in black veilings.

"ENGLISH AS SHE'S WRIT."
 Great Hamburg Merchant Sends a Wonderful Specimen to the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Ass'n.
 "English as she is writ, and alas, also, as 'she' is spoken, both in England and America, has given persons of culture no end of mirth, but English as it is sometimes taught in Hamburg, Germany, must be a tongue of wonder, indeed, if a letter received yesterday by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association from one of Hamburg's greatest merchants is any criterion in the premises. Certainly the Hamburg specimen should be an incentive to a more definite American diction."

It has long been held that the purest English in the world is spoken in Dublin and Boston and the one consolation to other cities is that Hamburg is at least out of the running for third place. The letter follows:

Hamburg, 17 November, 1910.

Confidentially.

I am desirous of obtaining representations of first class and able manufacturers of the down standing mentioned articles for Europe and here with beg to request devotedly the Secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association to procure me kindly such representations and to propose me it vacancies will be applied or requests for will be addressed to you in your concern.

First class New-York and Europe references can be given.

I beg to receive my best thanks in advance and remain, dear gentleman, Yours faithfully,

HOW ZOMBRO MADE GOOD.
 Responsible For The Kite Shaped Track Which Grew of a Desire to Get Business.

In connection with the unique manner in which W. H. Holabird, receiver of the California Development Company, gave the name "Tourist" to the old immigrant sleeping cars and thus popularized a line bearing a title under strong disfavor, members of the Los Angeles Traffic Association recalled yesterday the manner in which a young excursion promoter brought the now popular Kite Shaped Track excursions before the public.

The plan was originated in 1902 by C. Zombro, at that time a resident of San Bernardino. Zombro was not satisfied with the share of tourist business which came to the San Bernardino Valley cities. He saw that tourists visiting Los Angeles who were paying hotel expenses here, hesitated about taking trips to other cities which entailed staying over night. They contented themselves with outings to nearby towns.

Zombro conceived the plan of running a train which would visit all the cities of his valley, allowing time to see most of the points of interest along the route and return to Los Angeles the same day. General Manager Wade offered to place a train at the disposal of Mr. Zombro for a trial, providing the young promoter could furnish a bond for the trip. This was secured by Mark Sibley Severance, L. A. Grant, of Grant Brothers, and Mr. Zombro himself. The initial excursion was a huge success. That was eighteen years ago and these excursions have been running daily through the winter months ever since.

Is In Gusher Land.
 The Los Angeles Midway Oil Company is preparing to begin active development work on its property in section 6, 21-25, Emmette E. Nott, secretary of the company, has returned from the field after locating the site of its first well. He reports that on surrounding properties the Midway-Pacific has gone down 1200 feet in thirty days. The lands is down 1000 feet, and the Union well, now down 300 feet, already promises to be a big producer.

"Toys! Toys! Toys!"

There is No Toy Store Like My Own Toy Store

—Says Santa Claus—"Just come and see for yourself today—My own toy store—Bullock's, of course—Great varieties, great values—Not a cheap toy among the thousands and yet not a toy but the price of which is an attraction."

—New Toys and Old Fashioned Toys that are always new—thousands of them, from tiny little Dolls and Wagons up to Dolls that are almost life-size, and Automobiles, Coasters, Express Wagons, Velocipedes and Tricycles.

—Varieties in every section are wonderfully increased, in many cases five-fold what they were last year.

—There is a separate packing room for quick service. A separate Storage Department, where we will keep toys until you want deliveries.

—Then a most unique system for the Toy Floor alone, by which a series of toy purchases may be united into one, and a pneumatic cash service working full speed to get your change back quickly.

—Best News of All—Santa Claus is here to see that things go right, and to hear all the wishes of little boys and girls, hiring your letters to him, or whisper in his ear just what you want him to do for you.

Fresno Valley Tracts

The Land of Smiles

Did you ever see "the smile that won't come off?" That's the smile you see in the Fresno Valley district. Everybody there wears a smile. Dame Fortune smiles her brightest, for the weather, soil and water conditions are right; and that makes the rancher smile. The housewife smiles because it's an ideal place for her home; a clean, healthy country, with a merry sunshine that makes people feel happy, and the children strong.

A Well Settled Community; No Pioneering

This land adjoins a good town and is just a few miles south of Fresno; the big city, the metropolis of the San Joaquin Valley. The tract is crossed by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Railways, both having stations there. That means good transportation and quick, cheap marketing of your crops. This feature is valuable. The soil is a rich, sandy loam, with ditch water at 75c per acre per year, and pump water in abundance at only 14 feet from large pumping plants already installed. You can raise banner crops of alfalfa, corn, tobacco, oranges, apricots, peaches, figs, walnuts, grapes, vegetables and berries. Great for dairying and poultry raising. The prices are only $40 an acre up. You can have land already planted to alfalfa or other crops. Investigate this at once.

Come to my office and see the exhibit showing some of the things you can raise in the Fresno Valley Tract. Get my illustrated booklet. Find out about the free excursions.

AILING, MOTHER ADIES BY OWN HAND

ESCAPES OBSERVATION AND CUTS THROAT WITH KNIFE.

Tragedy Enters Home of Salt Lake Physician Who Gives Up Practice to Try Los Angeles. Outcome for Spouse's Malady—Beautiful Children Sob for Parent.

Although she had been carefully watched by her husband for several months due to a malady of the nerves, Mrs. Ella Louise Jennings, 48 years old, and mother of five beautiful children, escaped observation for a moment yesterday noon. She stepped into her bedroom at the Stratford apartments, and slashed her throat with a knife, dying at the Clara Barton Hospital a few minutes later.

Dr. James H. Jennings brought his wife and family to Los Angeles a few months ago to avoid the very thing that happened. He had a large practice in Salt Lake City and was in good circumstances. When Mrs. Jennings became affected he treated her at home but as time elapsed and she did not improve, he decided to bring her to California to try the effect of the climate.

On several occasions she had threatened to take her life, so that constant surveillance was necessary in order to prevent her harming herself. Mrs. Jennings seemed no worse than usual yesterday morning, and there was nothing in her actions to arouse suspicion to her intended to make an attempt on her life. When she was missed, her husband went into the room and found her lying on the floor. The body will be taken to Salt Lake tomorrow for burial.

PROMOTIONS FOR THE MERITORIOUS.

FREDERICKS REORGANIZES HIS DEPARTMENT WORK.

Ford Succeeds McComas Who Gets New Job; Sijana's Place Goes to Hanna, Helms Becomes Chief of Detectives—Browne Is Special Investigator—A New Deputy.

The reorganization of the legal and detective departments of the District Attorney's office, as announced some time ago in The Times, was effected yesterday by Capt. Fredericks. Under the new arrangement Deputy W. J. Ford is promoted to Assistant District Attorney and Attorney Byron Hanna of Ocean Park and Los Angeles is made Chief Deputy District Attorney. Attorney W. T. Helms was appointed Chief Detective.

Among other changes announced is the appointment of Attorney John Richardson, formerly member of the firm of Morgan, Richardson & Richardson, to a deputyship. Captain Fredericks has assigned former Chief of Detectives Browne to the position of special investigator. This is a new department created by Fredericks, to which will be referred all the more important criminal matters and other items under special investigation.

Asst. Dist. Atty. McComas, whose position has been given to Ford, will be retained by Captain Fredericks in the capacity of advisor. He will also handle intricate criminal matters. McComas has been an attaché of the District Attorney's office for many years. Owing to his long service and care of the business of the office, his health has become impaired.

Ford has risen to his present position within two years. Prior to that time he was an attaché of the City Prosecuting Attorney's office. He is a native of Los Angeles and was educated here. He has represented the District Attorney's office in many cases of vital interest and importance.

Hanna has offices in Venice and Los Angeles. He is a capable lawyer, hard-working and conscientious. Helms has had a varied career. He was educated at St. Lawrence University and obtained his law degree in New York.

Prior to coming to Los Angeles two years ago, he was a chaplain on board the United States battleship, and held the rank of commander. While acting in his official capacity he quelled a mutiny on the battleship, off the Oregon coast, when the "Jackies" rebelled at the poor food served them. The high regard in which he was held by the men alone prevented an outbreak.

Capt. Fredericks left last night for Mexico to inspect properties, and will take up on his return minor changes in his office.

EXCURSION TO MEXICO.

Chamber of Commerce Ready to Receive Reservations for the Great Trip to the West Coast.

The Chamber of Commerce is now ready to receive registrations for the excursion to the West Coast of Mexico, which has been under consideration for some time. It has been determined to leave over the Southern Pacific Railway on January 12, returning January 22.

The excursion will end at Yago, on the Santiago River, 150 miles south of Mazatlan, going by way of Nogales, Guaymas and Sonora. The trip will be made on a special train of Pullman cars, with diner attached, and the party will live on the train during the entire ten days, the rate fixed including all ordinary expenses. If but seventy-five persons go, the rate for the round trip will be $10; if there are 100, it will be $14; and if 125 go, it will be $18. Those who pay the higher figures will receive a rebate, according to the size of the party.

Time will be given all along the route to inspect mines, sugar plantations, sugar mills, cotton mills, and other industries to be found in the territory traversed. It will be a most interesting and profitable trip and the directors of the Chamber of Commerce are anxious to see as many as possible avail themselves of the opportunity. They ask that reservations be taken as quickly as possible, in order that all the arrangements may be perfected.

MILES OF CONCRETE PIPE.

Corona Constructing a Modern Water System. Crazy Man Found in the Asylum at Patton.

CORONA, Dec. 5.—The Reinforced Concrete Pipe Company of Los Angeles commenced yesterday the work of making 4500 feet of twenty-inch concrete pipe for Corona's new domestic water system line from Temescal to this city. Arthur S. Best of Los Angeles is to make five and one-half miles of twenty-inch concrete pipe for the same line. The water from the Temescal Water Company's deep wells at Temescal is to be conveyed nine miles to Corona in a closed pipe having a capacity of 200 inches. The water system is to be completed by April 1.

After disappearing from his friends while in Los Angeles a week ago and evading the searchers in their efforts to trace him, Hiram Strauss of Corona has been heard from at the Patton asylum. Just what he had done to result in his being placed there is not yet known, but he was taken in custody in Los Angeles the day following his disappearance, evidently having one of his attacks of insanity. Mrs. Strauss, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gibbs, left yesterday for Patton. Strauss had threatened to kill himself and also some of his friends. He succeeded in cutting his throat while at Loma Linda several months ago.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The board of Trade last evening appointed Howard Glass as the Corona member on the Executive Committee of the Tri-County Freight Association of Riverside, San Bernardino and Imperial counties.

Thinking the long distance telephone rates are too high, a committee was appointed to confer with the Western Union Telegraph Company relative to opening an office in the central part of town.

Board of trade dues have been increased and William Corkhill, W. L. Brown, S. E. Hampton, T. C. Jameson, Walter Clayton, B. M. Lillibridge and Stanley Garvey are a committee to solicit new members.

The two small parks opposite the depot are being seeded and set with shrubbery and plants by the Santa Fe, the board of trade having given assurance the city would care for the parks if the railroad would improve them.

The Fraternal Brotherhood has elected Fred Connell, president; Mrs. Charles Cressler, vice-president; Mrs. Edna Roberts, secretary, and Mrs. F. L. Dunham, treasurer.

The Temescal Water Company has increased the size of Lee Lake by dredging and also cleansing the borders thus making it a better reservoir. By connecting this with the pipe line the company saves forty to fifty inches of water daily.

As the result of an accident yesterday at the Pacific Clay Manufacturing Company's plant, Charles Shaw had his right hand badly lacerated and a bone broken. A number of stitches had to be taken.

Ten thousand boxes of oranges are being picked from the Bixby ranch at Temescal. The fruit is exceptionally fine and will nearly all go as Christmas fruit.

David Voorhes, infant son of Albert Voorhes, of Prado, died Saturday and was buried Sunday.

Ralph, the year-old son of William Blackman, died Saturday.

L. D. Barnes and wife are to move to Cucamonga, where Mr. Barnes will act as manager of the Cucamonga Fruit Association's packing house.

POMONA, Dec. 4.—The local lodge of Pythian Sisters has elected Mrs. W. Wright most excellent chief; Miss J. Baker, excellent senior; Mrs. C. O. Werner, most excellent junior; Mrs. Eugene McIntyre, manager; Mrs. W. E. Stevens, mistress of records and correspondence; Mrs. W. F. Krauss, mistress of finance; Miss Grace Wolterton, protector of temple; Mrs. C. C. Stevens, guard; Mrs. George W. Foster, trustee. The lodge is in receipt of an invitation from the Covina lodge to attend a banquet and entertainment in the latter place on Friday, December 5, and a number of local ladies will attend.

POMONA Camp, Woodmen of the World, has elected officers thus: John O. Shewman, commander; J. R. Gray, lieutenant; J. P. Roberts, banker; Paul De Arman, clerk; Arthur Busse, escort; R. E. Gray, watchman; Ray Close, sentry; Charles Laughlin, manager, and Dr. Hardy Smith, physician.

The theater in the Fraternal Aid building has been leased by the owners to W. C. Wyatt, manager of the Mason Opera-house, Los Angeles, for a term of five years. The electric railroad will soon be completed connecting Pomona with Ontario, Upland, Claremont, and San Dimas. North Pomona and Lodi, and theatrical and amusement companies visiting this city will have a population of about 20,000 from which to draw patronage. F. H. Paine will continue as local manager of the theater.

TROPICO, Dec. 4.—Final arrangements have been made by Miss Cora Hickman, Mrs. S. A. Pollock and Mrs. Don S. Erskine, committee for the Christmas bazaar country store and chicken dinner, to be at G. A. R. Hall Wednesday, for the benefit of N. P. Banks, who is in charge of Mrs. W. W. Dutton, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Ruby Henry. Doll-doll will be in charge of Mrs. Burt Burdett, Mrs. J. Haskell, Mrs. W. A. Hough, Mrs. E. B. Elias, Mrs. Mary Simkins and Mrs. E. E. Weston. Miss Elise Vance will present a musical programme; Mrs. Pollock will be assisted at the booth where articles suitable for Christmas gifts will be sold by Mrs. Margaret Parke, Mrs. Emma Sherritt, Mrs. Myra C. K. Shuey, Mrs. Joseph H. Webster and Mrs. Frank Ballentyne. Mrs. W. J. Hibbert will be assisted with the dinner by Mrs. W. B. Pratt, Mrs. Charles Snow, Mrs. N. P. Ogier, Mrs. H. E. Davis and Mrs. Jesse Stine. Mrs. Alfred Engelhart, who has the banquet hall in charge, will be assisted by Mrs. D. D. Cheney, Mrs. W. R. Light, Mrs. J. R. Hammond, Mrs. T. M. Spafford, Mrs. Susie Miller, Mrs. James R. Maxwell and Mrs. Charles Rifenberck. Miss Hickman will conduct the country store and will be assisted by Mrs. Eva M. Blain, Eugene H. Miller and Merrill Blain. Mrs. Georgia Riley, in her pritty booth, will have as assistants Mrs. Homer Brown, Misses Mabel Evans-Hough, Marjorie Imier, Hilda Engelhardt, Daphne Burlington, Annie Miller and Mary Evans-Hough.

Mrs. Nathan Burlington will have charge of the silk unit and will be assisted by Mrs. Della Hamond, Mrs. Mary Borthwick and Mrs. S. W. Lyman. The ladies are making a strenuous effort to liquidate the indebtedness on the G. A. R. Hall as well as to assist with their charity fund.

Gift Features For the Fireplace

If you are anxious this Christmas to select gifts that will be quite out of the ordinary you'll find them among the handsome andirons and other fireside articles shown at Parmelee-Dohrmann's.

Gifts of this nature will be doubly appreciated because of their artistic beauty and because of the many days and evenings of grateful service they will render. As a suggestion or two we print a few prices and descriptions.

Andirons
The handsome brass andirons illustrated we've selected at random from our comprehensive display. They are of solid, massive design, most suitable for a wide fireplace $27.50
A smaller size in this same design for$10.00
Similar designs in black metal for$3.00 and up
Brass Andirons in other designs sell for$4.50 and up
A very handsome set may be bought for$9.00 or $10.00

Fire Boxes
In antique brass like illustration, are very handsome and useful ornaments. Price$12.00
Large, roomy boxes with tapestry panels may be had for$14.00

Brass Coal Hods
As a rule coal hods can scarcely be classed as ornaments, but these are exceptions, as you will readily agree. Really handsome shapes in hammered brass. The one illustrated in two sizes, at$8.00 and $10.00

We are well supplied with a full line of decorative screens, fire sets, bellows and other article for the fireplace at any price you desire to pay. See them on the balcony.

Panic in 1893

The Panic of 1893 smashed thousands of business men, firms and corporations and the most disastrous wrecks were among those whose business was constructed like "house of cards" by the building of one corporation or business within and upon another. Take the history of a dealer of Minneapolis, Minn., who constructed the finest modern steel business block of its day, in addition to hundreds of homes with innumerable "companies," the Lombard Investment Companies of Kansas City, reputed to have been founded with second and third mortgages innumerable, the "firsts" having been disposed of; the Rawlings and other Investment Companies and the many railroad corporations which had taken millions of investors' capital into "parent" and "subsidiary" corporations; and in liquidation some of them paid back but a pittance.

This is not a "cry of wolf." It is based upon financial history and is merely a prelude to a few pertinent remarks about Mutual Home Building Corporation—a corporation working entirely within itself, doing a simple, clean business founded on Lands and Homes. If it had forty parent or subsidiary corporations, or "wheels within wheels," or "houses of cards," its chances of ultimate success could not be made greater but obviously rather weaker.

You can purchase shares in MUTUAL HOME BUILDING CORPORATION for a short time at $1.30 each on terms of 10% down and monthly or all cash—the more cash the more returns in quarterly cash dividends. These shares of this PARENT and ONE Corporation are worth at least $1 each or more right now based upon the intrinsic value of the Corporation's assets—the main item of which is 1200 lots within 3 1/2 miles of the postoffice, on or near a car line, bought at $166.66 each—rightly being the most accessible, safe and attractive, as well as the most sought after, home sites in California, which under developments now going on are selling and will sell for prices ranging from $500 to $2000, some $3000 and a few $3500 each. The profits from the sale of these lots, with the profits from the homes now being constructed and the hundreds of others that will follow and the interest, will justify some cash dividends and large profits. For full confirmation of every statement you are invited to call and for yourself closely investigate.

"Mutual Investor" and "The Right Way" will tell you truthfully about it if you will call or send for one.

TIMOTHY COLE

1892

For thirty years Timothy Cole has been reproducing on wood for The Century many of the great paintings of the world. At our request he has now returned to the American galleries what he has already done for the European.

Rembrandt's picture of his wife, the first of this new series, appeared in the November number, and Carriere's picture, "Intimite," appropriately appeared in the Christmas number.

Timothy Cole is the greatest wood engraver living—perhaps the greatest the world has ever known.

When he dies there will be no one to take up his work. Libraries, attics and bookstalls will be searched for old copies of the magazine to obtain merely the impressions of these cuts by Cole.

Good art will predominate in the Christmas Century and in subsequent numbers as it has in the past. Great artists always find in The Century sympathetic reproductions of their works, and in the readers of The Century sympathetic appreciation of their art.

The Christmas number, which will be eagerly anticipated by regular readers, is a very good number for new readers to begin with.

children he succeeded in getting them warm, although the cold and windy. At day's fall he succeeded in climbing the canyon, but he could not save the children. He descended and was making his way down the ropes with which

William Hicks and family arrived in San Jacinto from Los Angeles Sunday and will remain here during the winter, occupying their residence on Main street.

When the news was telegraphed throughout the world that Elly Meyer and Sam C. Simms Co., of Rochester, N. Y., had been declared bankrupt, with liabilities of about one million dollars, the women outside of the city and even the bankers here realized the importance of the one manufacturer by the world who manufactured exclusively fine clothing—clothing that ranked as much finer than the $60-80 CLOTHING. The CLOTHING that made a Howard which outclasses the so-called New American movements. In fact, there was no comparison. When this news was forced upon the attention of the bankruptcy of the Galloway Co., 223 So. Spring st., of this city—which firm dealt in the same quality in the Elly Meyer and Sam C. Simms clothing—this was the first order sent by the Bankrupt Court of $60,000, at about 10 o'clock the 31, and this was the first order sent to the Elly Meyer and Sam C. Simms clothing store.

And the men's furnishings are now sold at the old stand of the Galloway Co., 223 So. Spring street, Y. at 10 o'clock.
